“Métis Nation Reconciliation - A Work in Progress”

The presentation will provide an overview of the Métis Nation in Canada, from initial contact to the Métis Nation's ethnic beginnings, culminating in its current acceptance as one of Canada's Aboriginal Peoples. This presentation includes the role of Métis in the fur trade, expressions of Métis self-government and snippets of Métis culture, language and contributions to opening up the West for settlement. This piece will also highlight aspects of reconciliation.

Métis are known as and have always been the forgotten people.
