WAYS TO PARTICIPATE

- Join the walk for the day. You will not require accommodations and can join us for any length of the walk that day. We will normally be walking between 9:00 am and 4:00 pm and if you plan to walk for the day, you will need to bring your own bag lunch. You will also need to secure your own pick up and drop off arrangements. We will offer you a sign up sheet as a day walker if you want to remain part of future email contact list.
- Depending on the evening's venue, there may be an opportunity for day walkers to join the talking circle at 7:00 pm. This will be totally dependent upon the capacity of the hosting venue. Since one primary objective of the walk is to help community members sustain relationship building conversations after the walk is complete, they are considered first priority for the evening discussions. This will not be determined until days end so day walkers will need to plan for flexibility in terms of the evening event. If you plan to walk as a day walker, no pre-registration is required.
- The organizers will be walking between 15 to 30 kilometers per day, but day walkers are invited to walk for a few minutes, a few kilometers or an entire leg that day. The chart below will give you a sense of the daily distances and dates to help you anticipate how best to participate.
- The walk will invite us to adopt a posture of simplicity and trust. We are not intending the walk to resemble a protest but instead an opportunity to walk, talk and build new relationships. We also hope that participants will find time for some purposeful reflection around how they can continue to take meaningful actions in restoring Treaty relationships with Indigenous people.
- For those who are unable to walk for a variety of reasons, support can also be given through food, water, monetary donations or simply stopping by along the road to say hello.
