During our time together we will engage in supportive and encouraging dialogue with Christians from different denominations to help answer some common and important questions people are asking:

- What are different ways my church can meaningfully address some of the cultural issues happening in our area and the world right now?
- How do I deal with opposing views among parishioners?
- Truth and Reconciliation: what does it look like in our parish? What could it look like in our parish?
- How is our church defining justice and is it biblical?
- What ways have our church dealt with racism? What has worked, what hasn't?
- You are also welcome to share ideas and ask any questions
